RAVE REVIEWS

Dr.John Granrose, past Director of Studies for the C.G. Jung Institute in Zürich, Switzerland, and Emeritus Professor of Philosophy at the University of Georgia. He lectures world wide on magic, archetypes and Jung's teachings.

"It is sometimes difficult to integrate different systems of symbols. I greatly admire the creative approach of the remarkable White Light Tarot in combining the traditional Major and Minor Arcana, the Chakra system and Reiki teachings. I also find the "keywords" provided at the top of each card to be a helpful addition. Some of the paintings used on the cards are strikingly vivid, The Lovers and The Tower, for example. Others have a more subdued mood, but one which can help the user personally identify with the card. The Fool and The Magician are examples of this. I am sure that this new interpretation of the Tarot will bring light and blessings to many. In addition to the excellent cards, I have found the website http://whitelighttarot.com to have many valuable aids to using this important new deck."

"The art is more abstract than ultrarealistic, generating meaning from the colours and lines as well the underlying tarot symbolism. I think it's best for those with an interest in reiki, being one of the few – if not the only – deck combining reiki and tarot energies, but the deck could also work well for intuitive tarot readers." ... "Hints of both the Rider-Waite and Thoth deck appear, and, more strongly, modern life and figures from politics." Highlights from Solandia's review at Aeclectic.net.

A POWERFUL REIKI ENERGIZED TAROT DECK

SYMBOLS

Some of my warmest memories are hanging out with friends, lounging on big comfy easy chairs, talking out our problems, reading tarot, and just connecting. It opened me to feeling the world at a higher level.

Symbols are like that; they remind us of our divinity. The tarot is a great tool because it eases us softly into meditation allowing us to connect inward and become present in a very concrete way.

The Light from Within deck is even better because it offers the added bonus of gentle, healing reiki energy infusion, assigned chakras, and keywords.

Here's how it works, each card's keyword and assigned chakra color work together to actually tell you where and how to focus your attention.

Anatomy of a Reiki-Tarot Card

The keyword is like the essence or the meaning of the card. It will help focus your mind quickly. Chakras, remember, are the spinning energy wheels of light that line up and down your spine. They're associated with various physiological functions and keep the spiritual, mental, emotional and physical health of the body in balance, and each has a particular color. By knowing where you need to focus your attention, you are empowered, and you are in control of realigning your energy.

A fresh look can offer an easy way of getting back into alignment, fast.

Did you know that Reiki is taught at nursing schools because of its powerful ability to realign and relax patients? In fact, the Yale School of Nursing advocates using reiki.

"Reiki uses touch to facilitate relaxation, reduce stress, manage pain and promote healing."

Yale School of Nursing further endorses the use of reiki...

"Caregivers are encouraged to perform Reiki to stimulate the body's homeostatic response and also to perform Self-Reiki to relieve their own stress and boost energy."

The Light from Within deck can truly help you brainstorm solutions because of the evolved keywords that create connections that you normally might not think of, and at the same time indicate which main chakra energy centers are misaligned, stagnated, overcompensating or unfocused. Think of it!

Exact instructions on where you need to concentrate your energies to get what you desire.
